JAPS BEING PUSHED INTO SEA AT BUNA

Corregidor with all its suffering and humiliation was brought home to the Japs Wednesday.

General Douglas MacArthur was in command this time and the Americans are on the right end of the gun. With air superiority in American hands the Japs were being pushed into the sea at Buna.

General MacArthur took personal command of his men two weeks ago. It was to be a reversal of Corregidor and Bataan and so it is. By nightfall there may not be a single Jap left alive or outside the belly of sharks. A happy ending for a hard campaign fought by Marines and Army troops.

It was believed the battle would end Japanese resistance in the Solomons.

NAVY RECRUITING CRUISER HERE FRIDAY

When the TEXAS TASK FORCE traveling Navy recruiting "cruiser" puts into Cameron next Friday afternoon, it will bring with it recruiting officers with many years of naval service behind them. Two of the party have more than five "hash marks" on their sleeves, representing better than twenty years of duty in the Navy.

Chief Quartermaster A. G. McNair, who is in charge of the mobile recruiting unit, has spent his entire working life in the Navy, and several of these in submarine service. Chief Electrician's Mate R. L. Kies was on the U. S. S. Marblehead for four years and helped to place her in commission. This is the ship that the Japs claimed to have sunk several times. The Marblehead was heavily bombed during the battle of Macassar Straits. With steering gear shattered and with great gaping holes in her sides, she made an epic thirteen thousand mile voyage to safety through submarine infested waters, around the tip of South Africa to an Atlantic seaport for repairs. Chief Kies also served for ten years and eight months on the U. S. S. Lexington, the aircraft carrier which was lost recently. He was on board that ship during her search for Amelia Earhart, the famous aviatrix. Chief Water Tender J. B. Eady, Navy recruiting officer out of the Temple Station who regularly makes this territory, spent several years on the U. S. S. San Francisco, a man-of-war that covered itself with glory during recent heroic action in the Solomons.

The mobile Navy recruiting unit will be in down town Cameron from late Friday afternoon through Saturday afternoon.

Several entertaining and educational feautres are planned by the group during their visit to Cameron. The Cameron High School Band will salute the Navy with a thirty-minute concert Friday night from 7:30 to 8 p. m.

Men between 17 and 50 should contact the Navy men during their visit to the city to learn about the job the Navy has for them.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE WEDNESDAY

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." With this introduction the President of the United States has proclaimed the fourth Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day, and both that day and New Year's Day as days of prayer, to be observed publicly and privately. In keeping with this spirit, the Churches in and around Cameron have scheduled Thanksgiving Services.

A Union Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Cameron Ministers' Association, will be held in First Baptist Church, Cameron, Wednesday, November 25, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. John Solomon, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Cameron, will deliver the Thanksgiving Sermon. The combined choirs for the Cameron Churches will provide special music for the Union Service.

Among the rural Churches, Minerva Methodist Church will hold a Thanksgiving Service Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Maysfield will observe the day with Union Service in the Maysfield Presbyterian Church the Rev. Amos Gates, preaching. Friendship Methodist Church will hold Thanksgiving Services Thursday morning.

RECRUITING CRUISER FOR NAVY COMING HERE

"JOIN THE NAVY AND HELP TEXAS WIN THE WAR!" is the slogan of the TEXAS TASK FORCE Navy recruiting drive.

This unit will be made up of 7460 fighting Texans to be sent to the Navy before the year is out. The craft in the task force will be six destroyers, five submarines, four cruisers and an aircraft carrier. The subs, destroyers and one of the cruisers have already been named.

A modern traveling recruiting station will be in Cameron from Friday afternoon at six through Saturday at two in connection with the Navy's drive for men. The recruiting "cruiser" will be "anshored" in down town Cameron during its visit to the city.

Dailey Bros. Circus Opens This Afternoon

The 3 ring Daily Bros. Circus, nearing the end of its year long exhibition route through the United States, will open here at 2:30 this afternoon and again at 7:30 tonight.

The big show moved into town early this morning. The excitement especially among the youngsters was true to form for when the elephants come to town there is real cause for excitement.

One of the great features of the show is the Elephant trio. They play baseball. The catcher balls out the pitcher and the batter makes a slide for first base.

Kill Deer Tuesday Near Fredericksburg

Another hunter Tuesday put in his claim for distinction as an early success to get a buck. He is E. C. McFarland of the Texaco Service Station across from Baptist Church.

Mr. McFarland returned to Cameron Tuesday with a 9 point buck he killed in Gillespie county, thus beating another bunch of huntsmen in with the venison. Bringing home the venison is the happy order of the day.

City Will Be Closed Thursday

Generally throughout the city business houses will be closed through Thanksgiving Day, tomorrow.

Many of the citizens plan to attend the football game in Austin between Texas and A & M. Business houses remaining open will observe Sunday hours and the city will be almost deserted for the day.

42 CLUB

The Cameron 42 Club met in Mrs. Dan Tyson's home Thursday evening. There were two tables. Members of the club enjoyed the evening.

RED ARMY SWEEPS TO UNPRECEDENTED VICTORY

At noon Wednesday the Germans had lost 100,000 troops in the great pincer of the Red Army under General Timoshinko at Stalingrad .

The gap out of which the remaining men of Hitler's army can now escape has been narrowed to 35 miles.

A Swiss report said that Hitler had ordered a withdrawal from Stalingrad. The Russians said otherwise and have pushed their attack with great vigor.

Already they had taken 8 towns since Tuesday and 80,000 Nazi troops have been destroyed or captured plus another 20,000 reported to have fallen this morning.

It was certain that German might is collapsing on the Russian front and may be nearing the end.

Great stores of war materials have been taken by the Russians.

Radio Commentators said that the war was now being decided in Russia. The African campaign is only a side show compared to the main event in Russia.

Anthony Eden in London today said the African campaign is reaching a critical stage. More Nazi reinforcements are coming in and the United Nations have not as yet obtained air supremacy. An Allied spokesman said the fight is approaching a show down while General Montgomery maintains pressure on Rommel's army.

Admiral Darlan was quoted as saying that 9 French Warships at Alexandria may come over to the Allies.

STALINGRAD FORCES OF HITLER NOW MENACED

The Stalingrad offensive of the Red Army under General Timosherko had carried the Russian forces 12 miles into German lines and already 40,000 German troops have been killed or captured.

Enormous stores of German war materials were taken by the Russians who began their offensive several days ago as winter shut down over the Volga area.

The Russians have crossed the Don River.

The entire German army at Stalingrad numbering about 300 000 men was said at noon Tuesday to be menaced by the sudden Russian drive.

Berlin admitted at noon that the Russians have driven a deep wedge into their lines. The offensive is about 12 miles north of Stalingrad.

Adolph Hitler who said Germany would never again go to a peace conference unarmed, was said to be chewing the carpet and to be in a sorry state over the rapid collapse of his far flung fronts.

Surrender on Monday of the great African port of Dakar has placed the United Nations in possession of all strategic west Africa.

The Germans were reinforcing their air command in Tunisia.

A report from the American headquarters said that a bitter fight will follow now that the lines are drawn for battle. The swift dash through the desert had come to an end. The British army of General Montgomery has advanced 100 miles to take an important town west of Benghasi.

J. C. Brashear's Have 2 Sons i nService; 1 In Defense Plant

Due to confusing of names the following has been sent to the Herald for publication:

Thomas, J. C. or Blondy Brashear who worked for the Cafeway stores in Cameron is in the army and stationed at Keesler Field, Miss., and W. J. or Dulie Brashear, who is at Port Arthur working for the Gulf Port Boiler and Ship Building Company; and Ray Hubert Brashear, who worked for the Texas Warrant Company at Austin and who is in training at Lubbock army flying school are the sons of J. C. or Crosley and Paralee Brashear of 1206 West Main Street, Cameron.

Between 1900 and 1910 when an appreciable number of Texans became car owners, the first good roads clubs were formed and voting bonds for road construction became frequent.

Dailey Bros. Big Circus In Cameron Tues.; Has Many Fine Features

The circus is one form of entertainment that has never required a censor. It is also about the only amusement that has universal appeal to all classes of people. The Dailey Bros. Three Ring Circus, due in Cameron Tuesday Nov. 24th, lives up to this reputation.

The Dailey Circus may be said to be comprised of four distinct units. The dog and pony section delights children and and dog fanciers; the Tiger Bill Wild West thrills rodeo fans; the display of beautiful and remarkably trained horses and cute Shetland ponies, charm the admirers of horse flesh; the standard three ring circus itself is the tops of the two hour entertainment. To these units must be added the comical stunts by the company of clever clowns as they inject much clean and original comedy into the program and the up-to-date music which the circus concert act of the two hour performance.

Since this will doubtless be the last circus to show in Cameron until after the war, there will doubtless be the old time circus day crowd in town as this has been the case all along the circus route this year.

ITALIAN DOOM SEALED BY ALLIED OFFENSIVE

The first phase of the Allied offensive against Italy was under way Saturday to knock Mussolini from his gangster throne.

British bombers in great numbers were over Turnin last night and devastation was widespread. The Rome radio broadcast a statement that 120 people were wounded and some 30 killed. Large calibre bombs were dropped. Three of the Halifax bombers failed to return.

Across the Mediterranean the British and Americans were closing in on the Axis forces. Only a small portion of Tunisia was yet under Axis domination. A show down fight was expected within a few hours.

Russian armies had taken the offensive. A broadcast said Hitler had made a peace bid shortly before the Allies stormed French North Africa.

WOMEN AT WAR

Margaret

Margaret turned off the humming vacuum cleaner, and straightened the slipcovers of the armchair and the daybed that she had pushed up to go over the rug. Then she stood quite still in the doorway and looked at the small bedroom with its southern exposure. It was as neat and impersonal as a pin. It might never have been lived in. The door stood open on the clean, bare closet. There was not a pennant, not a team picture, not even so much as an old Arithmetic book left to show whose room it had once been.

Margaret stared at the walls, the furniture, and deeply, slowly, she realized that no matter what lodgers with their own trinkets and pictures might occupy it, she would always see it the old way. It was the old way that she saw it now. A pair of hard-worn gray pants lay on the floor where they had been dropped. Three baseball bats were stacked with a fishing rod in the corner. A battered red cap with a letter on it lay on the bed. And through the bed, as though it were transparent, Margaret saw another bed, smaller, and with high slatted sides.

She put the vacuum cleaner away and went down to her desk in the sitting-room. She took the fifteen dollars rent that the new lodger had paid that morning in advance for the room, and added to it, from her purse, three dollars and seventy-five cents more. Then she drew out a sheet of paper and began to write on it, slowly, gravely.

"To buy a bond to help train a young man to replace Don, Jr.—killed on June 6th in the Battle of Midway."

T P & L EMPLOYES SELL WAR BONDS

Employees of Texas Power & Light Company sold a total of $605,099.55 worth of War Bonds and Stamps during the first ten months of this year, and in addition, employees of the Company are purchasing through the payroll deduction plan at the rate of $259,742 annually in War Bonds, announced John W. Carpenter, president.

"By January 1, 1943, I feel that the combined totals of our sales and purchases will pass the $1,000,000 mark," said Mr. Carpenter. "This program was undertaken with no thought other than to patriotically serve our country and to co-operate with our many friends and neighbors throughout the territory in which we operate, and it has met with tremendous success and is a reflection of the deep patriotism and loyalty of Texans."

Employees of the Company devote at least two hours each week to selling War Bonds and Stamps to the public. New Year Blessing

by

Jocile Webb Pearson

TO MAIZIE GORDON there had always been something so satisfying about a New Year. The old year was gone and nothing could be done about it; but a new one meant new beginnings, fresh opportunities, new hope and courage to put into living.

She and Donald had had only one year of happy married life, then his firm had failed, and persistent effort had, so far, failed to bring him another job. Still Maizie kept her faith.

"Something's bound to come soon," she mused as she went about her morning tasks, "The New Year is almost here—"

"Hello, darling," called Donald from the doorway." Greet an uncrowned king—a working man. Once more we eat."

"I bow to your majesty," laughed Maizie. "Shall I offer a kiss or kneel at your feet?"

"I prefer the kiss; this is a democracy," grinned Donald.

"Sit here and tell me all about it. I knew something good was near. Another one of my hunches. Remember it was at a New Year's party we first met, and we were married on another New Year's day—so I knew Lady Luck was on her way to us."

"If that's the way it works, keep right on with your hunches, dear. Maybe that little house you've been wanting will just throw open its doors some day and invite us to take possession. How do you get these hunches you talk about?"

"Just believe hard enough and you'll get what you want," giggled Maizie. I'm concentrating on that house right now."

Winter and spring passed. Donald's work was going fine. "It's not such a hot job," he confided to Maizie, "but one can't be choosy these days; but the company's a going concern and there's always a chance of advancement. Gosh, it's hot in here." They were at dinner, and Maizie had turned on the electric fan. "You look all washed out girl, this is too hard on you. Better run down to your mother's till this hot weather is over."

"Desert the ship? Never," quoted Maizie. "I'm all right. You're going to get that raise in salary and then we'll look for a house."

"What!" retorted Donald, "another hunch? Don't we have to wait till the New Year?"

"It's more than a hunch this time, Donald, and we'll wait till the New Year," replied Maizie soberly.

It seemed to Donald, sitting in the chair at the end of the long corridor that the night would never end. Nurses slipped in and out of Maizie's room stopping occasionally to say: "Your wife is doing fine, Mr. Gordon," but always closing the door behind them with that air of finality that meant: "You are not to come in," when he wanted nothing so much but to be with Maizie. When he tried to question the doctors they were noncommittal. Twice he had gone out in the frosty air to walk, but he couldn't stay away. Then with the gray dawn a smiling nurse led him to Maizie's bedside.

She smiled bravely at him, and gave him a reassuring kiss. "Poor boy, it's been hard for you, too. Now take a look at your son." She turned back the blanket and revealed a downy pink head snuggled close to her breast. "Do you know what day this is, Donald?"

Donald stared reverently at his son. "No," he said, "I'm still too dazed to think. It seems years since last night." Maizie smiled.

"It's New Year's day, and Lady Luck is with us. We're a proud family."

"And I'm closing the deal for the house tomorrow," Donald added.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

ABILITY to do an extra job takes an extra something. Coca-Cola has it. There are many things for thirst but Coca-Cola does far more than just quench thirst. It brings you a unique taste you enjoy... and unique refreshment you feel.

In the making of Coca-Cola, there's a finished art that comes from a lifetime of practice. It takes the skill of 57 years of "know how" in blending certain special flavor-essences with all the other ingredients to produce an original unique taste all its own... a taste you never tire of. It never cloys. You and your thirst could ask for nothing more than ice-cold Coca-Cola. Because ice-cold Coca-Cola is the real thing in refreshment. It's all refreshment... pure refreshment.

Wartime limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola carries on.

5¢

The best is always the better buy!

In wartimes, less Coca-Cola is available than before. But there's still enough for many a refreshing pause. Ice-cold Coca-Cola with food is always welcomed by family and friends alike.

WASHINGTON
By
CONGRESSMAN POAGE

The filibuster goes on in the Senate, and many of the news and radio reporters continue to give the public most unfair and even untrue reports. For instance, many people have been led to believe that the filibustering Senators were resorting to illegal or unfair methods to defeat a bill. The truth is that the right to filibuster is Rules which authorize any Senator specifically protected by the Senate to talk as long as he wants to. In the House a prolonged filibuster is impossible because the Rules of the House put very strict limits on the length of debate. The Senate has the right to set this Rule aside, but there must be a two-thirds majority. At the time I write no effort has been made by the proponents of the "anti poll tax" bill to limit debate. It seems to me that if they were sincere in their objections to long discussion they would at least made a motion to limit debate. Probably such a motion will be made before this is published.

No one can offer any very strong defense for the methods used by the northern Senators in bringing this bill to the Senate Floor. It is admitted that there was no quorum of the Judiciary Committee present when the bill was reported. The Rules provide that the committees must have a majority present before they can transact business. Senator Connally and other southern members of the Committee were present and voted against reporting the bill, but the northern Senators insisted on casting the votes of a number of their friends who were not even present.—Senator Lodge (Republican from Massachusetts) later held as Acting President of the Senate that this procedure was all right but shortly thereafter the same Senators who were willing to vote their friends in absentia insisted in sending out and arresting a number of southern Senators who were not present. To say the least, the proponents of this bill are neither fair or consistent.

Deeper than the procedure involed is the question of the Constitutional rights of the states. The right of Congress to enact such legislation goes to the very heart of our form of Government. The question is not whether a poll tax is wise or desirable. That is a matter for each state to decide for itself. I would be glad to see Texas work out some other method of raising this needed revenue, if possible, but I shall do everything in my power to prevent the Federal Government from forcing my state or any state to make its sufferage laws conform to any set of regulations worked out in Washington.

The second section of Article One of the Constitution of the United States reads "The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature." Therefore, the State Legislature has the power to fix the requirements of a voter for members of Congress by fixing the present. To say the least, the proqualifications of voters for State Representatives. In the face of this clear determination of power to the state, the northern Senators are trying to pass a bill that will take that power away from the states and give it to the Federal Government. If they succeed, there will be nothing to keep the Federal Government from completely controlling our state government. For one, I love my State. I am proud of Texas. I am unwilling to support any measure that will weaken my State. I voted against this bill when it was before the House. I am glad that my own distinguished constituent, the Senior Senator from Texas is leading the fight to protect the rights of our State.

Those who seek the passage of this bill are in large part Senators who have led their negro constituents to believe that the bill would be helpful to the negroes of the South. Of course this is but a case of misleading a group of ignorant northern voters, but since both parties in the North try to get the negro vote, northern Democrats as well as Republicans have engaged in the unworthy practice. On their shoulders rests the responsibility for any delay in the legislative program. It was the selfish group that was more interested in getting negro votes than in protecting the rights of their states that brought this bill up. It is that group that can stop the proceeding any day by withdrawing their insistence on the measure. It is they who are responsible for the filibuster. Our southern Senators are but protecting our states in a legitimate and orderly manner. They did not throw the apple of discord, and they should not be condemned for protecting the charter of our liberties.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IN WARTIME

BELL SYSTEM

We are trying to give our nation in war what we have always tried to give in time of peace—the best telephone service in the world. We can't build more lines to do it, because most of the metal is needed for arms. So the longer long distance lines, carrying vital war calls, are becoming more and more crowded.

When you think of calling a faraway city, won't you please ask yourself:

1. Is it necessary?
2. If so, how can I keep it short?

War calls come first, and we know you'll gladly help clear the way for them.

A miscellaneous shower was a gracious compliment paid to Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Eddie Allison, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Eva McDonald, grand mother of Mrs. Allison with about 50 guests present.

"Three Wishes for A Bride" was given by Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp. A contest was won by Mrs. Joe Lankford of Hanover and the prize was presented to the bride.

A patriotic motif was carried out. Favors were tiny flags. After the contest and games were enjoyed by all the hostess served sandwiches, cake and punch.

The hostess was Mrs Raymond Dees, assisted by Mrs. Monroe White.

After a pleasant visit with friends and relatives here, the young couple formerly of Cameron have retured to their home in Miami where Sgt. Allison is stationed with the 8th Bomb Squadron.

RECENT CALL TO CHURCH IN FORT WORTH

Official announcement was made recently to the members of the Alpine Presbyterian church congregation by Rev. O. C. Acrey, pastor, that he had declined a call to the Oakhurst Presbyterian church in Fort Worth. Officials of the Fort Worth church conferred with the Alpine pastor during the recent meeting of the Synod of Texas with a view of his acceptance of the work in the popular rapid'y growing section of Riverside and Oakhurst additions.

Rev. Acrey feels that the warm response to his leadership in the Alpine church and the friendly people of Longview were large factors in his decision to remain here.

In one of the most remarable efforts of its kind the entire membership increased its Sunday School enrollment by more than 25 per cent. An extended visitation campaign is being conducted with all members of the church participating. Effort is being made to keep this additional membership intact as a part of the United Religious Education Advance Movement.

Issuing bonds locally for highway building in Texas was given its first impetus by an act of a special session of the Legislature permitting subdivision of counties for road improvement purpose.

Mrs. Bob Wiley has returned from San Antonio where she spent several weeks with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wine and Eulin Wiley and family. She later will visit another one of her children in Oklahoma and also one in Virginia.

Long ago the railroads made possible the swift settlement and development of this land.

Today they face their greatest test in the struggle to preserve it.

For this is essentially a war of rolling wheels. Millions of men, and tens of millions of tons of vital raw and finished products must be moved swiftly and surely, where and when they are needed.

Stop the wheels that move them, and we stop all that floats and flies as well.

That is why today, on the Santa Fe, movements essential to the war effort are "topping" the biggest job in our history. They must come first, beyond argument or selfish interest, on every American railroad.

KEEP 'EM ROLLIN'—OR ELSE

★ No nation that does not possess efficient mass transportation can hope to win a modern war. In America that mass transportation job is squarely up to her railroads. If they fail, we lose.

Neither battle gallantry nor industrial wizardry alone will turn the tide. To meet this tremendous responsibility, we ask for every possible consideration in the allocation of materials for vitally essential repairs, maintenance and new equipment.

LET'S ALL PULL TOGETHER

As the tide of military rail travel mounts, you can help us maintain adequate civilian passenger service as well, in these ways:

★ Make reservations and buy tickets early ★ Cancel unwanted reservations promptly ★ Carry least possible luggage, checking extra pieces to avoid crowding ★ Vacate dining cars quickly after meals ★ Travel mid-week, avoiding week-end and holiday rush periods.

Turn freely to your local Santa Fe representatives for help on your travel or shipping problems.

BOEHNER TELLS ABOUT RED CROSS SERVICES

How the Red Cross is spending its $70,500,000 contributed during the organization's recent war fund, on war services was explained today by J. M. Boehner, chairman of the Milam County Red Cross chapter.

The generosity of the American people, who gave over $20,000,000 more than was originally asked during the organization's first war fund in World War 2, made it unnecessary for the Red Cross to appeal for more funds next March, Boehner said, adding that the Red Cross would not conduct its regular Roll Call this fall.

Basing his statements upon the organization's most recent report, "Since Pearl Harbor," Boehner said that more than half of the money is being used for direct services to the armed forces. The Red Cross, he pointed out, is responsible, under its Congressional Charter, "to act in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their Army and Navy.' The Red Cross, he said, is the 'official welfare agency for the men in service—the only civilian welfare agency serving the armed forces wherever stationed." Added to that responsibility is an expanding program of recreation for servicemen in the United States and at foreign bases.

"Over the desks of the Red Cross field directors, serving wherever our troops are stationed, are poured the troubled stories of worried men in uniform," he declared. "It is the field director's job to help solve the natural human problems which arise in transition from civilian to military life. This vital service in the preservaton of morale is only accomplished with the aid of well-organized Red Cross chapters back home. There are more than 3,700 chapters covering practically every county of America."

More than 440,000 men in the armed forces asked for an received counsel and assistance, through this important home link, in the past year—an increase of 600 per cent over the previous year, Boehner said.

In the large camps of the country, he continued, there are 65 Red Cross Administration Building from which this service is rendered but in every camp, every base, every air station, this service is always available to our service men.

In addition, here at home, there are 70 hospital recreation buildings erected in hospital areas by the Army and staffed and operated by the Red Cross. Recreational programs are provided and highly trained medical case workers in hospitals at home and abroad are provided by the Red Cross to aid the patients.

Boehner emphasized the importance of Red Cross services to men abroad.

"As American troops arrived on foreign soil early in the year," he said, "it became quickly evident that not only must the Red Cross play its customary role of recreation host to hospitalized men but must serve the social needs of able-bodied men as well. In a dozen locations where troops are based abroad, the Red Cross has established extremely popular recreation centers. Overseas Servicemen's Clubs now are established in Iceland, England, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Australia and New Caledonia."

Chapter activity of the Red Cross in the interest of the servicemen is manifest in many other warys, Boehner said.

To co-ordinate the efforts of groups in communities near military or naval stations in utilizing resources for the comfort and recreation of servicemen, the Red Cross has inaugurated a new service, the Camp and Hospital Service Council, he said. Working through the field directors at the camps and in co-operation with fraternal service and church organizations in the communities, the Councils carry out such projects as furnishing day rooms for able bodied men, providing comfort articles for convalescents and a number of other services. The Councils had increased from 10 on December 7 to 80 in July, with 804 chapters participating in pooling their resources in behalf of adjacent posts and naval bases.

Boehner described, as "a vivid picture of readiness for the event," the surgical dressings program of the chapters as viewed before and after Pearl Harbor.

"The Army and Navy," he said, "had requisitioned supplies based on anticipated needs, 'should war come'; 75 per cent of the allotment was ready on December 7 and the rest delivered shortly thereafter, a grand total of 45,647,300 dressings. A new program of even greater production now is in full swing. Since Pearl Harbor, Chapter production corps workers have made 1,184,445 knitted articles for the armed forces as well as hundreds of thousands of personal kits."

One of the most colorful services of the Red Cross—and one which has proved among the most valuable to servicemen—is the Blood Donor Service, Boehner said. Recently, this Red Cross service was awarded the Army-Navy "E" for excellence Through its 18 centers, the Red Cross delivered 81,493 more units of processed blood plasma that was requested by the Army and Navy by June 30. The armed forces have requested an additional 2,500,000 pints of blood before July 1, 1943, and the 18 original centers have increased their quotas. Since centers must be located near processing laboratories, many persons in communities not having centers are unable "to give a pint," Boehner point-ed out. However, contributions made by the millions of Americans during the last war fund are paying for the processing, which costs approximately $3 per unit, he added.

Further breakdown of the Red Cross dollar shows that 10 per cent is being used for civilian emergencies, 25 per cent for preparedness—civilian training and stockpiles, and 15 per cent is earmarked for chapter use, Boehner said.

"The reason for this particular report," he concluded, "is to give those millions of Americans who contributed their money to our last war fund a clearer coception of how their dollars are working for Victory. As you know, the Red Cross will not conduct another financial campaign until next March. It has long been the policy of the American National Red Cross not to participate in joint fund raising drives, because of its charter obligations. As President Roosevelt recently wrote: 'The charter of the Red Cross and its responsibilities are such that the national interests will best be served if the Red Cross maintains direct contact with the people for the membership and support necessary for its work at home and abroad."

Gas May Not Be Rationed Here Now

Gasoline may not be rationed in Texas for sometime, it was announced in Washington Friday at noon.

Delegations from Texas and Oklahoma are in the capital opposing ration for their states.

It has been generally agreed that use of automobiles in business is essential and to prohibit business transportation will stagnate or destroy the home front, now so vital to the war effort. Business men in Cameron were worried considerably over the prospects. Many have pointed out they cannot continue if their transportation system is destroyed.

There is no shortage of gasoline. The program is supplemental to tire savings. In Cameron gasoline restrictions would destroy around 30 per cent of local industry of people actually engaged in the sale of gasoline and oils. When translated into restrictions for all types of business, substantially more than half our business would be ruined.

Gasoline and tires for essential use must not be taken away. For unnecessary operations there can and should be restrictions.

Miss Aetna Smith and Mrs. Rush Thomas have returned from a visit with their sister, Mrs. Vernon McIntyre at Alpine. They were accompanied there by Miss Janette McIntyre who is a student at Texas University and returned with them to Austin on their way home.

Mrs. Rube Jobe of Waco, State President of the Rebecca Assembly of Texas, visited the local chapter Tuesday evening here.

According to the last U. S. Census, 45.4 per cent of Texas population was urban in 1940.

MASS MOVEMENT OF ITALIAN PEOPLE

Mass exodus of Italian people from the Mediterranean coast line Monday had created profound fear and a sense of desperation and defeat throughout Mussolini's home state, it was learned authoritatively.

Coupled with the movement of the population came a report from Turkey that Italy is preparing to ask for a seperate peace. The report came from a well known Italian who had quoted Count Cinano, brother in law of Mussolini as favoring a separate peace. The king and queen of Italy are also said to favor such a move. The war was never indorsed by the monarch.

The report said the Peace talk was first heard from a Vatican source. There was nothing official.

During recent weeks large industrial cities in Italy have been blasted by Allied air forces. The Mussolini empire built on El Duce's chin in the early stages of his bombastic rout of the poor natives of Hilaigh Selassee, has been slowly chipped away until today he has only the Italian boot left.

Hemed in on a narrow strip of sand all that is left of the Italian army is being rapidly dissolved by the British army now closing in for a complete release of all North Africa.

The presence of some 200,000 American troops in North Africa had added greatly to the Italian worry as all Axis forces were under the terrific destruction of American guns and bombing planes.

15,000 NAZI ARE SLAIN 16,000 ARE PRISONERS

The great Red Army under Marshal Timonshinko had cut two German railroad supply lines and killed 15,000 Nazi soldiers and took 16,000 prisoners in the opening phases of an offensive launched at Stalingrad.

Hitler's armies may be forced to retreat from that battered city which has become the graveyard of the world.

The Russians have reached the River Don. Berlin broadcasts virtually admited the Russian advanced by saying that Rumanian troops are fighting a defensive battle in the great bend of the Don River.

Several divisions of the Nazi have been cut off and are imperiled in the Stalingrad area.

Based in the news of the day the Axis was folding up everywhere.

On Guadalcanal General Douglas MacArthur, personally leading the American forces was giving the Japs a taste of Corregidor. Surounded on all sides the Japs were being wiped out and no prisoners taken.

Stutgart in Germany was devasted last night by a great British bombing force of 250 planes.

A Japanese carrier or transport was sunk off Indo China Sunday.

First Venison Reaches Cameron; 2 Bucks Fall One Hunter Goes Down

First venison of the season has reached Cameron.

Coy Arledge and Johnny Ethridge, both members of a three man party reached the city late Thursday with two large bucks they killed near Fredericksburg in Gillispie county.

Mr. Arledge said the hunting was good, in fact deer so numerous that one of the party, Dutch Walzel, was run over by a buck. In the succeeding excitement Dutch's gun was discharged 3 times but the buck escaped. Mr. Walzel was greatly put out over this rough treatment and failure to bag the buck.

Mr. Arledge gave his friends venison for which they are grateful.

TAYLOR WINS OVER KILLEEN FOR TITLE

Taylor, Nov. 20.—That touchdown machine known as the Taylor Ducks, led by a burly fullback who drove like an Allied tank, sacked up the District 33A championship here tonight by crushing the fighting but outclassed Killeen Kangaroos 27 to 0.

Clifton Jirasek, the always-pounding fullback, set up the first Taylor touchdown in the second quarter, after a fairly even first frame. He snapped off a Kangaroo pass and raced 40 yards. Then W. C. Seale, the other half of the Duck one-two punch, slashed over from the Killeen 15 yard line for the score.

Later in the same canto, Jirasek ripped through the middle of the Kangaroo line and never looked back as he galloped 40 yards to pay dirt.

In the third, White, Taylor center, picked off a Killeen pass and ran 60 yards to score, and in the fourth Jirasek intercepted one and ran it from midfield to the Kangaroo three yard line, from where Seale plowed across.

The Kangaroos, with Conder and Toliver leading the way, twice hammered down inside the Taylor 25 yard line, but fumbles or pass interceptions halted them on both those drives and all others. Taylor's line outplayed the Killeen line throughout.

First downs were seven to five in favor of Taylor, and the Ducks gained 167 yards running to 43 for Killeen. Taylor tried out two passes, completed neither. Killeen made good on five of 17 passes for 78 yards, but had four intercepted and run back for a total of 117 yards.

NAZIS THROWN BACK IN FIRST 2 ENGAGEMENTS

American fighting men under General Eisenhower, bearing down on Axis positions in Tunesia, have clashed with the Germans and have won two stiff battles, it was reported at noon Friday.

The Germans were thrown back with heavy losses. The Americans in typical style of fighting followed up and killed many of Hitler's best troops and captured considerable supplies.

It was noted that the Germans are using the best possible equipment in North Africa, indicating Hitler intends to defed Tunesia.

While the first battle between American and German soldiers has been fought and won by the Americans it was expected that heavier engagements would follow within hours. The Germans launched a heavy attack on American forces and were thrown back with heavy losses.

The Germans employed dive bombers and all the modren war technique that gave the world the blitzkreig. Reports said the Americans paid no attention to these terrifying tactics and outfought and won handily after several hours. American artillery was the deciding factor.

From Rome a broadcast was relayed to New York saying that the hour has come for Italy. Explanations said Italy expects to be attacked and to bear the brunt of the invasion.

General Franco, Spain's dictator, sent a warning early Friday to Hitler and to the United Nations in which he declared that any act of aggression or invasion of his country by either of the powers would send Spain to the side of the other.

Observers said they believed that Hitler is preparing to invade Spain. If so General Franco will join with Britain and the United States in a war on Germany, he said.

Moscow was happy Friday over great successes of Red army in the Caucasus region. They foresee the that winter has set in and the Reds collapse of the German army now prepare to wage a great offensive.

It has been revealed that 8 additional Japanese warships have been sunk in the battle of the Solomons. One of the ships was a battleship and two were heavy cruisers.

HARRIETT ATKINSON IS PIANIST FOR PRODUCTION IN DENTON LITTLE THEATRE

Denton—Miss Harriett Atkinson of Maysfield is the pianist for "The Steadfast Tin Solider," first production of the Texas State College for Women Children's Little Theatre. The TSCW Children's Little Theatre is the oldest organization of its kind in the state. It gives students training in community dramas in which they have plays with and for children, and it brings the children wholesome recreation and an appreciation of the drama.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. J. T. GREGORY

Mrs. Geregory passed away Sunday morning, November 8, 1942, at her home in Cameron.

Mrs. Gregory was a member of the Church of Christ and a very devoted Christian, her faith never wavered through all her suffering, although an invalid for several years.

She was a wonderful wife and mother, loved by all who knew her. She always had a bright smile and a cheery word for all her friends.

If to her loved ones she could speak, doubtless, she would say: Loved ones, be wise and dry those weeping eyes for in Paradise, I live a life that never dies.

I am gone from before your face
A little time, a little space
When you have come where I've slept
You will wonder then,
Why you have wept.
Then weep not, loved ones dear,
I am not dead, just resting here
I was not yours, but Christ alone,
He loved me so he took me home.

In tender sympathy,

DOLLS
They're Almost Human As Science Steps In

Even in the doll world, science has come through with its help.

It has perfected an "almost human" doll whose heart beat can be distinguished by means of the stethoscope that is furnished with the doll's layette. So now little Janey, if she becomes worried about the condition of her "little baby's" health—even though its cheeks are rosy—need but put the stethoscope to use. The health, of course, all depends on Janey's decision.

There are today, even little dollbabies that eat from a spoon, make use of a nursery bottle like any little veteran of the crib, and even blow bubbles. Why, if Janey wants them to, they'll even walk along with her, provided, of course, she holds at least one hand. You will note, too, when Janey and her little doll do go out for a walk, the doll walks much more gracefully than ever before.

Little Janey will also notice that this year reaches a new high in smart clothing for her doll. The right style wardrobes and even accessories for all occasions have been designed.

Miss Janey is going to have a fine time with her new, modern doll this Christmas.

It Happened On Christmas Day

Ironically enough, several strange and important war activities have taken place on Christmas day.

One which many of the British and German soldiers of the last World war remember is the strange Christmas day that took place on the 1914 front. The World war was definitely on, but for a short time, on Christmas day, there was a period of peace on earth between the fighting soldiers.

In the Flanders sector, German and British soldiers ceased firing by mutual agreement, and went over to each other's trenches and dugouts to spend the day in feasting and celebration.

A very important military event in colonial American history also took place on Christmas day. George Washington, leading his brave, but weather-beaten army of 2,400 men across the Delaware, captured the city of Trenton, N. J., which British and Hessian troops were then occupying. Over 1,500 enemy troops were captured in the surprise march.

Decorate Christmas Tree 1,300 Feet Under Ground

About ten years ago, in Ishpeming, Mich., timber haulers were on their way to a mine to put up some trussing, found a small Christmas tree on the side of the road which had probably fallen from a truck.

One of the men picked up the tree and threw it on top of the timber. At the mine the tree was sent down 1,300 feet into the mine. One of the miners picked it up, put it on the side of the passageway. At lunch time some of the miners decorated the tree with bits of paper from their lunch kits.

"Let's do this every year," one of them suggested.

Since then a small Christmas tree is set up in that Michigan mine passageway. And not only the miners, but their guests, gather 'round the tree at 6 a. m., exchange gifts and indulge in small talk for about a half hour before starting their shift.

American Spirit Is Noted In Tots' Homemade Toys

With a typical American wartime spirit, the people of the nation have started to manufacture many of their own Christmas toys.

For instance, in those shops where bits of wood are left from repair work, such lumber remnants can be used for the building of toys. Smoothly sawed off pieces make fine building blocks.

Spools and wooden cigar boxes come in for use as toys, too. The boxes can be made into trains, and spools can be used as wheels for them. Spools can even be strung together for beads, or lined up for imitation trains to be drawn along the floor by the baby.

MILANO 4-H CLUB

Christmas gifts which can be made by girls was the subject of the Demonstration given to the Milano 4-H club at the regular meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 17, at Milano High School. Thelma Keese, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent showed the girls how to make aprons, towels, napkins, hot pot holders dickeys and blouses.

She also showed the group how to make chinaberry beads. These are made by simmering the berries for 4 hours, stringing, and drying in the sun. For coloring the beads, any dress dye can be used.

The club members decided to make aprons before the time of the next meeting, and exhibit them at that meeting which will be on December 15, during the 6th school period.
